Promptly at 9 o'clock yesterday morning ac Count and his friends were in their sadles, and a few minutes later the start was sade. The entire party consisted of eleven orsemen and three vehicles. The party ras composed of the following: Comte de faris, Duc d'Orleans, Duc d'Uzes, Maruis de Lasteyrie, Colonel de Parseval, comte d'Haussonville, Captain Morhain, bocteur Recamier, Colonel J. J. Coppinger, Colonel Archer Anderson, Captain Philip Haxall, Mr. S. G. Tinsiey, Mr. William Benington, of the New York Herald; Mr. A. J. Clarke, of the Associated Press, and a spresentative of The Times, who was the only reporter of a Richmond paper present. The Count and his friends were on horseback, except Comte de Haussonville and Captain Morhaine, who prefered riding in a vehicle.

THE COUNT'S HORSE.

The Count rode a noble chestnut sorrell, which seemed to be conscious of his distinguished charge by the proud way in which horseman.

The Marquis d'Lastegrie wore a neat sack suit, and Colonel d'Parseval and Docteur Recamier, the rest of the horsemen, were tressed in regular American style.

skilled in horsemanship. The deference which each of the Count's friends showed him at all times was very striking. Not even his soy dared to ride by him without his permission, or even ride abreast with him. If the horses were together when during a halt, when the start was made each would fall in the rear, and if by accident one of their horses would touch that of the Count's they would at once exclaim, in suppliant tones, "I humbly beg your pardon, Your Highness." The Count would scarcely even reply. When one of the guides ran up by the side of the Count's horse on the start, several of the party who noticed it stared at the Riesmonder with amazement, and said something to each other in low tones. The Count, however, seemed not to notice it.

RODE ALONE.

RODE ALONE.

When the Count rode off from the Exchange in the lead of the party he was alone, but was soon joined by Colonel Anderson and Dr. Gallen on each side. The route was up Fourteenth street to Broad, down Broad to Eighteenth, up Eighteenth to Venable, and from Venable to Mosby street, and the Mechanicsville road was entered.

The line was formed by twos, the vehicles bringing up the rear. This was not strictly obeyed, for frequently four would be riding abreast.

The first part of the journey was made by very rapid riding, the Count frequently leading in a-trot.

FIRST STOP.

The first stop made was at Chickahominy.
On the hill before the swamp was reached the Count and the rest of the horsemen turned to the left from the main road and reached a summit overlooking the entire swamp. "Ah, I remember distinctly," said the Count. "Everything is perfectly natural. I see it all." Turning to his friends he said in French:
"Thie is where so much time was taken up in reconnoitering."

"This is where so much time was taken up in reconnoitering."

"Ah, indeed," came the reply, and after a further explanation by the Count, his friends exclaimed, "Oh, I see, I see." The Count seemed overwhelmed with delight at this the first scene of his journey. The portion of the engagement he could not recall was soon explained by Dr. Cullen, and in a moment his face would light up with the mem'rey of the fight, and he would shrug his shoulders with delight. About a half an hour was spent here in discussing the reconnoitering of the Federal and Confederate troops around the Chickshominy, alter which the journey was continued.

CROSSING THE CREEK.

When the creek was being crossed Colonel Coppinger remarked that in order to cross the swamp the army would have to go over on corduroy bridges. The Frenchmen had never heard of corduroy bridges, and after it was explained to them they were very forcibly struck with the name and its derivation.

It took only a few moments' ride before Mechanicsville was reached. Here the party dismounted, and a general inspection of the grounds was made.

THE OLD LADY.

When the horsemen rode up in front of he door of an old house fronting on the ond an old lady poked her head out and houted:

shouted:
"I know all of you come here to see about the war, didn't ye?"
The answer was made in the affirmative, and she continued.
"Well, this is the door where one of the Yankee balls went through the door and I was sitting right in here."
At this the Frenchman broke out in a

UP THE BILL.

The Count, followed by several of the party, was taken by Mr. Tinsley, who was its country, on the top of the hill overlooking the valley, beyond which the Federal troops were stated. They will leave here again this morning at 50 clock and visit Seven Pines to day, and not visit Mathematically towards the opposite hill on which the Federal army had been, as if in deep thought. He asked Mr. Tinsley several questions about the positions of the two armies. When the last questions of the two armies. When the last questions of the two armies, when the last questions of the two armies. When the last questions of the two armies, when the last questions was answered, he exclaimed. The count would talk in an any cuted manner, especially when he would the count would talk in an any cuted manner, especially when he would the count would talk in an any cuted manner, especially when he would the count would talk in an any cuted manner, especially when he would the count would talk in an any cuted manner, especially when he would the count would talk in an any cuted manner, especially when he would the count would talk in an any cuted manner, especially when he would the count would talk in an any cuted manner, especially when he would the count would talk in an any cuted manner, especially when he would the count would talk in an any cuted manner, especially when he would the count would talk in an any cuted manner, especially when he would the count would talk in an any cuted manner, especially when he would the count which their daughter, the count would talk in an any cuted manner, especially when he would the count would talk in an any cuted manner, especially when he would the count would talk in an any cuted manner, especially when he would the count would talk in an any cuted manner, especially when he would the count would talk in an any cuted manner, especially when he would the count in the United States, are the first, the flow of the murder of a mile especial foreign telegram, published to his friends. The flow that were naked then have grown up, and this at first bewildered me to some extent, but it only required a moment's reflection and it all came back to me. How it stirred me to be once again in the midst of these meets and to recall them, too. Why, Gaines' mill alone would have repaid me for my coming to Richmond. And then, too, your people have been so kind to me. Why, I am thoroughly charmed with your city.

"I am particularly impressed with the manners of Virginians. I have heard of Virginia hospitality, but never knew how to appreciate it until I came and enjoyed it. I look forward to to-morrow with great pleasure, for I am exceedingly anxious to see Fair Oaks."

LUNCH READY.

The announcement that lunch was ready caused the visitors to relax their interest in the cold milt, and they were soon around this rustic festive board. A seat was prepared for the Count, while the Duke of Orpared for the Count, while the Duke of Orp be bore him. The Prince, as his friends call him, was attired in a dark cutaway coat and mixed gray pantaloons with patent edwith a pair of silver spurs. He wore, a very ordinary Derby hat with a tiny twig of budding cedar tucked in the left side of the band. It is his custom to always wear this coder, which has some unknown significance. He carried a beautiful silver handle riding-whip. The Count never allowed his horse to gallop the entire day, but when he went faster than a walk he held him in a rot, always leaning forward in his saddle and springing continually in his stirrups, thich is the French custom of riding.

The Duc d' Orleans, who is the oldest son the Count, wore a very flashy suit, which issisted of a light gray cutaway coat it to conduct the distinguish of the distinguished visity or summer, no one could fail to eat with relish and appreciation. About 12 o'clock several out the distinguished visity rs returned to the drawing horse and a better saddler. The Marquis at once discussion was a spirited one, by the part of silver saddlers, which has some unknown significance. He carried a beautiful silver handle riding-whip. The Count never allowed his horse to gallop the entire day, but when he went faster than a walk he held him in a rot, always leaning forward in his saddle est attempt at horse-stealing I ever saw,"

The Duck.

The Duck O'Orleans, who is the oldest son the Count, wore a very flashy suit, which is the French custom of riding.

The Count was the colonel, and laughed law the colonel said:

"The Frenchman thought this a capital joke on the Colonel, and laughed law the distinguished visity rs returned to the distinguished visity returned in the distinguished visity rs returned to the distinguished visity returne

COLD HARBOR. New Cold Harbor was next reached nattract his attention as he passed them to the street, going and returning. The uke is an'excellent horseman, and seemed delight himself in racing with any of his lends who would accept his challenge.

The Duc d' Urges wore an elegant darking refining suit, and is also on excellent presenta.

The Marquis d'Lastegrie wore a neat uck suit, and Colonel d'Parseval and Doctor Recamier, the rest of the horsemen, ere tressed in regular American style.

minus of the journey.

THE RETURN.
On the return trip the famous Grapevine bridge was visited, also Alexandria's bridge, just beyond which is Golden's farm. In order to get a good view of this country.
Mr. Tinsley led the party through Watt's farm. "I had quite and interesting experience down in that valley," said the Count. "I was ordered to retreat gradually and was doing so. My men had crossed st the creek, and when I attempted to do so my horse, who was shy of the water, refused to cross. All the while the Confederates were firing in that direction, and I was compelled to dismount. I shall never forget that remarkable escape with my the life."

men very much.

The next place of interest, and the last was Dr. Gaines' residence. Near this place the Count had his headquarters for a short the Count had his headquarters for a short time.

There being no other spot to interest the Count between here and Richmond, and it was growing late, the ride to the city was made very rapidly.

The Duke of Orleans, the Duke of Uzes, and the Marquis d'Lastevrie engaged in several races. The Duke of Orleans proved the best horseman in these contests.

On his return he said to THE TIMES representative that he was delighted with Virginia, and especially Virginians. "Your country," said he, "reminds me very forcibly of India. I spent three years there, and it is a grand country. I shall never forget the kindness and welcome we have received in the historic city. I do not think they differ very widely in their manners from our people."

ATTRACTED ATTENTION.

The party as they drove through the city, on their return, attracted a great deal of attention. The piazzas of the residences were crowded with people, who gazed at the royal strangers with great curiosity. The hotel was reached shortly after 6 o'clock, and after dismounting the visitors went immediately to their rooms and arrayed themselves in full dress costumes for the reception; after which they went in to dinner and remained until 9 o'clock, when they left for Colonel Anderson's residence.

Captain Morriweather Jones, of Company C, First Virginia regiment, has tendered his resignation, his business engagements being such that they prevent him giving the attention to the company as he desired. The resignation goes first to Colonel Jones, and by him it will be transmitted to General Anderson, and through him to the Adjutant-General. Captain Jones made a popular and efficient officer, and his men are sorry to part with him.

General Joseph E. Johnston.

Major Gordon McCabe, of Petersburg, came over to the city vesterday and invited the Count and his friends to visit Petersburg to-morrow and see the lines around that city. The Count has partially accepted the invitation, and it is very probable that Petersburg will be visited. If they do they will return to the city Sunday afternoon and spend the night here and leave early Monday morning by rail for Washington.

General Joseph E. Johnston.

H. Maury. He is looking remarkably well for a man over eighty years of age, and his visit is purely a social one. During his stay here he will stand as godfather for one of General Maury sgrandchildren. The baptism will take place at St. James church.

The Howitzers Not to Piccale and Mary services and his stay here he will stand as godfather for one of General Maury. He is looking remarkably well for a man over eighty years of age, and his stay here he will stand as godfather for one of General Maury. He is looking remarkably well for a man over eighty years of age, and his stay here he will stand as godfather for one of General Joseph E. Johnston.

THE COUNT IN THE SADDLE.

27th. He remembered both the days of the weeks and the months in which any slight the Exchange Hotel to ascertain what the Count knew about it. He was informed by Dr. Recamier, that up to the time of returning the Count had received, a Times reporter called at the Exchange Hotel to ascertain what the Count knew about it. He was informed by Dr. Recamier, that up to the time of returning the Count had received, a Times reporter called at the Exchange Hotel to ascertain what the Count knew about it. He was informed by Dr. Recamier, that up to the time of returning the Count had received, a Times reporter called at the Exchange Hotel to ascertain what the Count knew about it. He was informed by Dr. Recamier, that up to the time of returning the Count had received, a Times reporter called at the Exchange Hotel to ascertain what the Count knew about it. He was informed by Dr. Recamier, that up to the time for it is a transfer to the Exchange Hotel to ascertain what the Count knew about it. He was informed to the Exchange Hotel to ascertain what the E at his residence, Adams and Franklin while. "I am afraid we shall lose too much time," he would say. "We have a long time," he would say. "We have a long way to go and a great deal to see."

GAINES' MILL.

After about an hour's riding over very rough roads, the famous battle-ground of Gaines' Mill was reached. It was only a little past noon when this place was little past noon when this place was not be party, and who resembles General Early somewhat, had already inquired about luncheon, and proposed that it be spread at this place.

A rude table was made beneath the trelised branches of two tall sycamores, and the Captain with his own hands assisted in spreading the lunch. While this was being done the rest of the party was viewing the grounds. The ruins of the elebrated old mill attracted a great deal of attention. With the entire top blown off and tention. With the entire top blown off and tention of the entire tention of the days of the days of th

COUNT ARRIVES.

COUNT ARRIVES.

About 10 o'clock the Count and his party arrived, and as the other guests came they were introduced to them. All of the Frenchmen had a pleasant or complimentary word to say, and entered with spirit into the airy persifiage peculiarly adapted to such entertainments. At 11 o'clock supper was announced, and one of the prettiest tables ever laid awaited the guests. Every effort that would add to the cuisine had been spent, and the result was a pleasure to contemplate. Vians, in their silent way, vied with their brother viands to look and taste their best; ices became warm with enthusiasm to out-distance the salads; the entrees raced with the wines to the goal of satisfaction. Like the flowers, all in their silent manner, wished to do homage to their guests, and all combined in their efforts to please.

Mrs. J. F. T. Anderson, white silk, silver jimning. Miss Hobson, pink silk mull and pearls. Miss Daniel, crepe de chiene. Mrs. Hartley Carmichael, black tilk, pink

Mrs. Philip Haxall, yellow brocade, rea iace.

Miss Blankenship, real lace and pearls.
Miss Glasgow, pink silk and lace.
Mrs Fred R. Scott, black veivet, fur trimmings, diamonds.
Mrs A. B. Camm, black lace, yellow trimmings.

Mrs. George Wayne Anderson, Yellow gauze and brocade.

Miss Kate Anderson, pink crepe de chine and peat fornaments.

Among the men present were: Captain Philip Haxail, Mr. W. W. Henry, Mr. Robert Archer, Mr. John N. Dunlop, Dr. J. L. M. Curry, Dr. J. S. D. Cullen, Gen. Joseph E. Johnston, Rev. Mr. Hartley Carmichael, Mr. George W. Andetson, Rev. Dr. M. D. Hoge, Col. E. L. Hobson, Mr. Seddon Bruce, Major Fred R. Scott, Hon. George D. Wise, Mr. Charles W. Williams, Mr. Andrew Christian, Gen. Dabney H. Manry and Mr. L. R. Page.

Factories, Hotels, Schools, Amusement Halls to Use Them.

The following is the ordinance in full, re-sently passed by the City Council, and ap-roved by Mayor Ellyson in reference to fire It explains itself.

scapes. It explains itself.

"Be it ordained, That there shall be placed by the respective owners on the outside of such factory, workshop, hotel, school building, and hospital of over three stories height, each theatre and public place of musement in the city of hichmond, a fire scape, to consist of from stairways, with from and rails, leading from a platform at each tory, and easily accessible from the passage ways of each story; the said from stairways hall continue to the ground, but when creeds over a public highway, the lower section thall be adjustable, so as to be kept at a disance of not less than twelve feet above the ground, except when he used during a fire, and he said lower section shall be so kept raised rom the ground except when he used during a fire.

from the ground except when in use during a fire.

"The manner and materials of construction shall be subject to the approval of the Chief of the Fire Department.

"The Board of Fire Commissioners are hereby requested to make it the duty of the Chief of the Fire Department to see that the requirements contained in the first section be duly compiled with.

"Any owners or owner of any such buildings who shall fail to comply with the provisions of this ordinance by the 1st day of January, 1891, shall be fined not its st than twenty-five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars for each month that they shall fail to provide such fire-escape."

NOTES ABOUT TOWN. cal Happenings That Require Little Space to Relate.

in that court.

Professor W. H. Sadler, supreme treasurer of the order of the Goiden Chain, visited Anchor Lodge, No. S. last evening, and gave a very interesting address on the objects of the washington.

FOR TO-DAY.

The programme for to-day was changed considerably yesterday. It was decided to visit Seven Pines to-day, and not visit Malvern lill at all.

They will leave here again this morning to 2 o'clock and visit Seven Pines. From here they go to Savage's station, thence to Frayser's farm. White-Oak swamp will be visited nex, after which they will return to the city via the Charles City road. This will end the visitation of battle-fields around Richmond.

TME COUNT'S Programme for to-day was changed considerably yesterday, and not visit Malvern lill at all.

They will leave here again this morning the little state of them will not be granted. It was intended by the negroes that the Howitzers firing a salute for them will not be granted. It was intended to the will not be granted. It was tified that the dying man said that he told MOTOR-MAN'S TESTIMONX.

CUTT'S REMAINS.

The remains were removed to Peters-burg yesterday evening and the interment will take place there.

HURT IN THE SHAM BATTLE.

Lynchburg Thursday, in which the Richmond Howitzers took part, resulted disastrously for at least one member of that company.

Mr. Louis R. Keliam was badly burned about the face and eyes by the discharge of a musket in the hands of a member of a lyanchure company. were receiving the charge of the infantry with their sabres. Mr. Kellam was en-deavoring to protect the colors of his com-pany when a young Lynchburger, in trying to capture them, became excited and fired his musket within a few inches of Mr. Kellar his musket within a few inches of Mr. Kei-lam's face. He was stunned at first by the severeness of the shock, but was soon suf-ficiently well to return to Richmond.

Dr. C. M. Shields operated on his eyes and succeeded in removing all the powder from both. The Doctor says his left eye is not seriously hurt and he has strong hopes of eriously hurt and he has strong hop he recovery of the sight in the right.

Mr. A. F. Shelton was married Thursday evening by the Rev. Dr. Dashiel to Miss Emma D. Preston. Mr. Shelton is an employe of the J. L. Hill Printing Company.

The October meeting of the McGill Cath-

John Holloway, charged with assault, was John Holloway, charged with assault, was fined $5 and costs.
salle Johnson, for being drunk and disorderly, was fined $5 and costs.

Adam Wilkinson who was wanted for assaulting and beating J. Hall Moore, Jr., who delivered himself, Thursany, light at the First police station, had a hearing yesterday morning. As the crime was committed in Henrico county the case was sent there.

Conway Banks was fined $2 and costs for being drunk. William Chane and Alex. Tralme, alias Johnson, was fined $2.50 and costs for assault.

George Burkert, drunk and disorderly, was fined $2.50 and costs.

George Burkert, drunk and disorderly, was fined $2.50 and costs. Claude Harris, Lewis Hall, and Ed. Hall, Jr., were charged with fighting a rock battle in the street, and each fined $2.50 and costs. James Powell was fined $50 and costs for assan't. Mitchell Fitzpatrick was charged with be-lug drunk, and fined $2.50 and costs.

Two sults were brought in the City Circuit Court vesterony—one against W. G. Clement and others by Clark Cove Guano Company. This is an action of debt for $5,000. The other was instituted by the Simons' Blank Book Company against J. H. Chataigne. Action of assumpsit for $437.50.

United States Court. Judge Hughes, of the United States Court, left the city yesterday. He will return on Monday, and hold court on that day.

Admitted to Probate.

Governor Mckinney has received a letter from Mr. Menaleus Langford, of Bowers, Southampton county, Va., dated October 8th, in which he says: "I have seen in the papers recently an appeal to you by a young lady for protection, and stating that her work was hard. Now, it occurred to me that she (the young girl) could find a suitable home here with my wife and myself, provided her character is all right. With you be so kind as to send me her address? I refer you to Dr. Thomas H. Barnes and to Judge Bartlett."

The Missing Man. The Misslog Man.

Nothing has been heard from Mr. William Rittenour, an elderly gentleman from Grove Park, Fla., who took rooms at the American Hotel, and has since been missing.

Policeman John T. Hall is working up the case. He has examined the missing man's trunks, and found many valuable papers. It is the opinion of some that he has fallen in the dock, while others think he has merely gone to visit some town in the Southwest, as he had been talking of making investments in that section.

The Board of Aldermen will meet next Monday night, at which time it is probable that Mr. A. L. Wilkinson, who will shortly eave for Savannah, will tender his resi

Entrics for to-day:

THE RAILWAY ACCIDENT. Brylen second, Paramette third. Time, 1.47.
Sixth race, dive-eighths of a mile, seilingFlorida first, Best Boy second, Balgowan third. Time, 1.133. First race, five-eighths of a mile—Fradford, 22; Aljarrov, 122; Fole, 122; Terchlight, 122; Chagstock, 122; Baniel E, 122; Anders, 122; elle 1/97, 119; Rival 110; Zea, 119; Meriden, Sixth race, one and a quarter miles, self-log-Esquimau, 117; Vendetta, 97; Flood-lime, 97; Pontico, 97; Vivid, 104; Salvini, 112; Longshot, 122; Wilfred, 122; Admiral, 108; B. S. Million, 103; Little Jim, 101; Gold-en Reel, 106; Elkton, 98.

METHODIST CONFERENCE

Will be Changed.

Below will be found a list of Methodist dergymen who have reached the time hanged at the coming Methodist Confereate, referring to them, says: A movement of so many men will require the shifting of others not on this list. We may reasonably recken double this number will go to new appointments. The Murreesboro district livision will brine about changes.

reekon double this number will go to new appointments. The Murtreesboor districtivation will bring about changes.

An unusual number of presiding elders are "up," as the phrase is—first-rate men, too. Garland, L. S. Reed, Whitehead, Ray, and Littleton—half of the corps.

The men finishing their quadrennial will find no difficulty in securing good charges, for they are of exceptional eleverness.

We may speak of a neighbor especially—chaplain to the "Cottage on the clift at lorset"—the Rev. Werter H. Gregory, He has two qualities rarely conjoined in shigh a degree—common sense, business tact, mother wit, and brightness in the public. His sheats are fat, the buttons on the gates at the parsonage firmly screwed, his punctual—no congregation waits—no scolding. He has a line presence, and taks to a purpose. People are saved. We regret his going, and Brother Hargrove must do his level best for Albemarie, or there will be "trouble in the camp," A city church that needs a live man—genial, zealous, and not "techy"—ought to have Werter.

Richmond District—J. Powell Garland, S. S. Lambeth, J. C. Martin, S. H. Johnson, Charlottesville I District—W. H. Gregory, J. W. Crider, W. W. Sawyer, W. F. Rein, M. Grider, W. W. Sawyer, W. F. Rein, M. Gregory, J. W. Crider, W. W. Sawyer, W. F. Rein, M. Gregory, J. W. Crider, W. W. Sawyer, W. F. Rein, M. Gregory, J. W. Crider, W. W. Sawyer, W. F. Rein, M. Gregory, J. W. Crider, W. W. Sawyer, W. F. Rein, M. Gregory, J. W. Crider, W. W. Sawyer, W. F. Rein, M. Gregory, J. W. Crider, W. W. Sawyer, W. F. Rein, M. Gregory, J. W. Crider, W. W. Sawyer, W. F. Rein, M. Gregory, J. W. Crider, W. W. Sawyer, W. F. Rein, M. Gregory, J. W. Crider, W. W. Sawyer, W. F. Rein, M. Gregory, J. W. Crider, W. W. Sawyer, W. F. Rein, M. Gregory, J. W. Crider, W. W. Sawyer, W. F. Rein, M. Gregory, J. W. Crider, W. W. Sawyer, W. F. Rein, M. Gregory, J. W. Crider, W. W. Sawyer, W. F. Rein, M. Gregory, J. W. Crider, W. W. Sawyer, W. F. Rein, M. Gregory, J. W. Crider, W. W. Sawyer, W. F. Rein, M. Gregory, J. W. Crid

Lambeth, J. C. Martin, S. H. Johnson,
Charlottesville District—W. H. Gregory, J.
W. Crider, W. W. Sawyer, W. F. Fain,
Lynchburg District—Paul Whitehead, H.
C. Cheatham, J. D. Southail, W. c. Paynes,
Farmville District—Oscar Littleton, R. H.
Vonner,

Petersburg District—L. S. Reed, G. C. Vandersilee.
Norfolk District—W. V. Tudor, J. S. Hunter,
Randolph-Macon District—George H. Ray,
M. S. Coloma, W. D. Mower, J. H. Dably, K.
E. Barrett, W. F. Robins.
Eastern Shore District—J. A. Crowder, R.
A. Compion, W. J. Twilley, C. R. Taylor,
The Methodist Layman's Union of Richmond and Manchester held a meeting at Broad-Street church last night. Mr. John Morton presided, and Mr. A. J. Gary neted as secretary. A resolution was adopted to hold a mass-meeting at Broad-Street M. E. church on the last Sunday night of November for the purpose of raising $10,000 for er for the purpose of raising $10,000 for missionary work in Richmond and Man-

Democratic Rally in Henrics County.

the neighboring country had a big day yesterday at Darby's Store, in Henrico county. The weather was glorious and there was a

The weather was glorious and there was a large crowd present.

After partaking of a splendid dinner prepared for the occasion, Mr. Fussell called the meeting to order and introduced Mr. R. L. Montague, of Richmond, who entertained his hearers with a sound, logical speech of about thirty minutes.

Mr. D. S. Cates, sheriff, was then introduced, and "rained hot-shot into the enemy's camp"; urged all present to be vigilant, and vote their full strength on November 4th. Mr. Cates closed with an illusion to the ladies, many of whom were present, and implered them to urge their husbands, brothers, and sweethearts to stand up for their rights.

The two speakers did much good. Every one here was in the humor; Nat. Darby expecially.

A marriage license was issued 'vesterday to Gustave E. Perkinson and Mamie T. Hogan, both of Richmond,

The price of coal is on the increase and those intending to buy in their winter supply should call and see Mrs. Jane King, Symptoms: Moisture; intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. Swayne's ointment stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. "How to Cure All Skin Diseases." BIG DAY AT DARBY'S.

BIG DAY AT DARBY'S.

Democratic Rally in Henrics County—Speeches.

The Democrats of Varina township and the neighboring country had a big day vestigation.

READ THE SUNDAY TIMES. New Business of the Equitable.

The Equitable Life Assurance Society re VARBROUGH'S "MILD &BURLEY | Come and make your purchases of lots be NERVOUS.

At 4 P. M. to-day the River View Railroad Company will start its first ear from its car she is at the corner of New York and Texas avenues. The Company will be pleased to have its friends to meet them and enjoy a free ride. It will be the policy of the River View Company to ride all dwellers of River View Grompany to ride all dwellers of River View free to the electric line until such time as our city fathers will grant them a right of way into the city.

West Point, Va.

Richmond, Va.

Or CHEWNING & ROSE.

M. and at 4 P. M. Hall on Filth street between Broad and Marshall.

Oction For Wist Woodland Regits and Forest-Hill Fark will call on Thomas RUTHERFORM.

Oction Thomas RUTHERFORM.

Oction Thomas RUTHERFORM.

Oction Thomas RUTHERFORM.

THE QUEEN OF PAMUNKEY.

Will you heed the warning—the signal, perhaps, of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consonaption? Ask yourselves bie disease, Consonaption? Ask yourselves bie disease, Consonaption? Ask yourselves been synchronized that so the sake of saving 80 cents, to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that shifton of bottless why more than a Million of Bottless why more than a Million of Bottless and the same ready the pass year. It relieves croup

ANTHONY-MCCARTHY.-Married, Tue

MARINE INTELLIGENCE. MINIATURE ALMANAC, GOT. 11, 1890.

ANTHONY—SIGNARTHY—Matrice day, September 30, 1850, at 81. James by Rev. Lew Burton, Des BORAH of daughter of the late William H. am Anthony, of Botebourt county, Va. ELWARD McCaRTHY, of Kichmond

WANTED.—A YOUNG LADY OF EXPERITENCE IS prepared to take a LIMITED NUMBER OF PUPILS IN THE PRIMARY GRADES. Terms moderate Apply to 634 north Seventh street. or 8-tip

WANTED - AN EXPERIENCED

BINGHAM, Died, Thusday, October 9th, at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. L. W. Parskey, Mrs. M. B. BINGHAM, in the sev-enty-second year of her age. FRAYSER—Died, after a brief lilness frursday moraing, at a quarter to 5 o'clock at the residence of his mother, Mrs. Fannle Frayser, No. 221 west Baker street, GEORGE W. FRAYSER, aged four years and mineteen Y experience desires a resition of

For all purposes.

DEY GOODS, &C.

NEW RUFFLINGS FOR SATURDAY.

Black Silk Lace Reffled Bens, 75c. Ruffled Surab Silk tringed edge Bens, black and all colors, $1.25. Ostrich Feather Bons, vellow, pink. red, layender, black, tan, $2.98.
Silk Cord Ruffling, 6 yards of either cream or black, in a box, for 25c.
New large Silk Cord Ruffling, 5c.

Rufflings, 25c. yard.

Another lot of soiled 12; and 10c. Ladies' Linen Collars, to-day for 6c.

Another lot of soiled 15 and 20c. Ladies' Linen Collars for 10c.

THE MILLINERY DEPATMENT ANNOUNCES FOR TO-DAY

Toques at special prices. . Special style of children's Plush and Surah Silk Hats, dark colors, for 88c. THE DEPARTMENTS MENTIONED BELOW ALL MAKE SPECIAL EX-HIBITS FOR SATURDAYS. Kid Gloves.

Handkerchiefs.

Cor. Sixth and Broad.

AUCTION SALES-Future Days. A UCTION SALE

TOWN OF WEST POINT,

onvenient hour. FREE TRANSPORTATION TO ALL . BUYERS, there will be a special train on date of sale

oint in time to inspect the property and ge

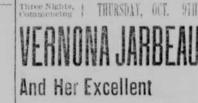

BARGAINS MAY BE EXPECTED.

chase lots in this growing town, which is the Railroad Company, and one of the best har-bors on the entire Atlantic coast, and at no distant day will be one of the busiest sen-ports on the coast, and the commercial outthe exports from this port for the year 1880 amounting to over $30,000,000. Of cotton ports that the new assurance written during the first three-quarters of the year shows an excess of $20,000.000 over that of the same period last year. It is stated that, with a continuance of this ratio of increase, the total new business of the Society for the year will exceed $200,000,000.—New York Commercial Advertiser, October 6th. putlet via this port. The town is about com-pleting school buildings costing about $10,- promptly attended to.

TOBACCO DOES NOT MAKE YOU fore the arrival of our inevitable BOOM. For any additional information call on c West Point, Va .

WOULD LIKE A SITUATION AS NURSERY GOVERNESS OF TRACHER for small children, and would not object to assist in housekeeping or plain sewing. No objection to going out of the State. Address ADVERTISER, Fowhatan Courthouse, Va.

O RESURS PUTTON FLANTS. HYA CINTH, TULEP, PURSUZIA, NARCESSUS and WHITE BARDY LILY, for 22c. M. R. CATELIN, * 723 south Laurel street, lockmond, Va.

HARRY P. CLARKE, ANDY AMANN.

HELEN MARLBOROUGH, IRENE HERNANDEZ,

RICHMOND THEATRE. Several styles of trimmed Cloth The Operatic I vent-Success of > SPECIAL MATINEE WEDNESDAY. The William J. Gilmore OPERA COMPANY.

THESEAKING,

Four rights, {Commencing } Oct. 15

flichmond's Pavorite Tragedian. Frederick Warde.

Thursday-"OTHELLO." Friday-"HENRY VIII." Faturday Marinee-"VIRGINIUS."

nd Accurate.
Tickets on sale TUESDAY, October 14.
6c 11-1t WOOD AND COAL.

ALL: IZES ANTERACITE,

· PINE AND OAK WOOD, LONG, SAWED, OR SAWED AND SPLIT.

MRS. JANE KING ICE COMPANY. Phone No. 210.

THE TIMES offers Special Rates to person

A ANTED, TO RENT TO A SMALL

VV PROOF-READER, Apply at THE TIMES office after 5 o'clock P M. oc 9-17

COBACCO AND CIGARS

WANTED, EXPERIENCED CHE ROOL BUNCH - BREAKERS AND ROLLERS, The best wages in the city ging anteed. Apply carty at 1434 and 1436 case
Carvatreet, G. C. BARNES. 6e 7-st

THE TRAYLOR ELECTRIC COM-

MOZART ACADEMY OF MUSI

Musical Comedy Co

WILLIAM SELLERY. EVA SAUNDERS LILLY SINCLAIR. BEATRICE TIFFANY.

New York.

SIXTY-SEVEN PEOPLE - CHORUS-OR-CHESTRA, From Palmor's Theatre, in the opera comique

MOZART ACADEMY OF MUSIC.

Accompanied by MRS. D. P. BOWERS, and a Company of unusual merit, in the fol-lowing o reat Reportory: Wednesday-"GALBA, THE GLADIATOR

Saturday night-"MACBETH,"

COAL AND WOOD. GRATE, AND STEAM COALS,

Send orders to

NOTICE. DR. HENRY S. CARTER WILL Smeak again in Smith's Hall on SPIRIT-